Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Investment Objective and Strategies

The Fund's objective is to provide investors with a high level of income and the opportunity for capital appreciation. The Fund will invest primarily in fixed income securities issued by U.S., Canadian and other international corporations. The Fund is available in a hedged and unhedged series. For investors seeking exposure to U.S. currency with exposure to fluctuations between the U.S. and Canadian dollars, an unhedged version is available. For investors seeking exposure to the assets of the funds denominated or exposed to the U.S. currency, but wishing to reduce exposure to fluctuations between the Canadian and U.S. dollars, a Canadian dollar hedged version is available.

Risk

The overall risks of investing in the Fund are as described in the Simplified Prospectus. There were no material changes to the Fund during the year that affected the overall level of risk.

Results of Operations

The Fund's net assets increased by 66.2% in 2016, rising to $36.4 million from $21.9 million at the end of 2015. Of this change, $4.1 million was attributable to investment losses and $10.4 million to net inflows.

Fixed income investments overall performed well in 2016. As with the equity markets, however, the high yield bond market began the year with a high level of volatility but recovered and ended the year in positive territory. Once again, currency had a big impact in the performance of the unhedged series compared to the Canadian dollar hedged series of the Fund. The unhedged version of the High Yield Bond Fund lagged the hedged version in 2016 as the Canadian dollar strengthened against the U.S. dollar. Series A units of the unhedged High Yield Bond Fund increased by 11.1% while the hedged series advanced by 14.3% in 2016. The unhedged units of Series B returned 10.1% and Series F advanced by 10.3%, both after fees and expenses. The Canadian dollar hedged version saw Series B units return 13.3% and Series F units advance by 13.6%, both after fees and expenses over the same time period.

The high yield bond market performed strongly in 2016, as it continued to benefit from a global reach for yield in the current low interest rate environment. Higher risk high yield bonds posted strong results: CCC-rated bonds outperformed, while BB-rated bonds underperformed. The Fund beat its benchmark over the year due to superior sector and issuer selection.

We began the year positioned defensively, having a lower exposure to commodities in general, and to energy stocks in particular, than the market. Throughout the first half of 2016, the default rate in the energy and mining sectors increased along with the number of issuers that became "fallen angels" (had their credit rating reduced below investment grade). During the first half of the year we initiated new positions in Aercap, EnerSys, Jarden, US Concrete, Geo Group Inc. and FelCor Lodging, and deleted AES Corporation, Reynolds Group, CommScope, Sirius XM, Amkor Technology and Intelsat Jackson Holdings S.A from the Fund. By the end of the year we still had a lower exposure to commodities than the market, albeit at a higher level than we began the year as these names rallied.

Notable activity within the third quarter was from selections in the technology (Seagate Technology and Micron Technology) and mining (Teck Resources) sectors. We increased exposure to Micron Technology in late July as valuations became attractive. Since then, market conditions have improved for the semiconductor provider's DRAM (Dynamic Random Access Memory) products and there has been a subsequent credit spread performance. We extended the maturity on our Seagate position and continue to hold the computer storage company in the Fund, believing its margins will continually improve after experiencing high demand for its hard disk drive product. We also increased our exposure to Teck Resources, which performed well during the third quarter as metallurgical coal prices continued to improve and the company reported better than expected results. A new addition during the third quarter was NCI Building Systems, a building materials company with improving credit metrics. Its bond has a relatively short duration and is likely to be called in a couple of years.

Despite higher interest rates in the fourth quarter, the majority of the high yield bond holdings produced positive returns. First Quantum Minerals outperformed, as the recent rally in large mining companies spread to smaller-sized players. Seagate was among the top performing bonds again in the fourth quarter, as the data storage provider has been improving profit margins through cost initiatives and continued growing demand for its product mix. Community Health Systems was the only holding that depreciated due to concerns around the possible repeal of the Affordable Care Act under a Trump administration in the United States. Among the Fund's new holdings, Southwestern Energy was the best performer as the natural gas producer benefitted from a rebound in natural gas prices.

The High Yield Bond Fund is focused on high quality issues and is a concentrated, liquid portfolio of 44 names across various sectors. The Fund is currently positioned with a slightly defensive bias, as the incremental yield from high yield debt decreased over the quarter making valuations relatively less attractive. Default rates (a measure of market stress) remain elevated as a result of pressure on commodity-related issuers. However, outside of the energy and mining sectors, defaults continue to be extremely low and leverage ratios are stable. Over the medium term, we are constructive on high yield debt, due to the strong fundamentals of high yield corporate balance sheets and investors' continued search for yield in a low rate environment.

In this environment, we continue to focus on allocating assets to the best risk-adjusted investments in high yield fixed income. We continue to look for opportunities to add high quality assets at attractive prices to the High Yield Bond Fund.

- (1) This information is provided as at December 31 of the year shown; unless noted otherwise.
- (2) Management expense ratio is based on total expenses (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) for the stated period and is expressed as an annualized percentage of the daily average net asset value during the period.
- (3) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period.
- (4) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio adviser manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher a fund's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the fund in the year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of a fund.

Past Performance

General

The Fund's performance assumes all distributions made by the Fund in the years shown were reinvested in units of the Fund and is based on net asset value per unit. If you hold the Fund outside a Registered Plan, you will be taxed on these distributions.

The performance information does not take into account sales charges, other charges or taxes that, if applicable, would have reduced returns or performance; but includes management fees and other expenses borne directly by the Fund. Past performance does not necessarily indicate how the Fund may perform in the future.

Year-by-Year Returns

The following bar chart shows the Fund's historical return, which changes each year and illustrates how the Fund's performance has changed from year to year. The bar chart shows, in percentage terms, how much an investment made on the first day of each financial year would have grown or decreased by the last day of each year.
