Management Discussion of Fund Performance

Investment Objective and Strategies

To provide a relatively stable source of monthly income. The Fund will invest in fixed income securities (including corporate bonds, preferred shares, high-yield debt, loans, convertible debt and guaranteed mortgages). The Fund primarily invests in a range of Canadian securities and may also invest in foreign securities. The Fund will also invest in broad range of companies and is not restricted by capitalization or industry sector, although portfolio diversification is a consideration in the selection of securities of the Fund. Under normal circumstances, the Fund will keep its portfolio fully invested to the greatest extent possible.

This Fund invests in a mix of assets to provide a source of income. The asset mix includes investment-grade fixed income securities, providing the lower risk portion of the portfolio, and preferred shares, high-yield debt, loans, convertible debt and guaranteed mortgages, which provide additional income with less liquidity and potentially more credit risk. The allocation of investments in the Fund's portfolio is determined by the Manager to optimize the income and balance the risk of the portfolio using the follow target ranges for the asset mix: investment grade fixed income securities 25% - 100%; preferred shares 0% - 30%; high-yield debt 0% - 20%; loans 0% - 10%; convertible debt 0% - 20% and guaranteed mortgages 0% - 10%.

Risk

The overall risks of investing in the Fund are as described in the Simplified Prospectus. There were no material changes to the Fund during the year that affected the overall level of risk.

Results of Operations

The Fund's net assets increased by 14.8% in the first half of 2024 to $221.4 million from $192.8 million at the end of 2023. Of this change, $8.2 million was attributable to positive investment performance and $20.4 million to net inflows from unitholders.

For the six months ended June 30, 2024, the Corporate Advantage Fund Series A returned +4.1% before fees, and Series F increased +3.8% after fees and expenses.

As of June 30, 2024, the Fund held 84.1% in corporate bonds, 13.2% in preferred shares, and 1.5% in senior loans (through segregated securities and the Leith Wheeler Multi Credit Fund) and 1.2% in cash and other net assets.

The Bank of Canada (the Bank) cut the policy rate by 25 basis points in June to 4.75%, marking a turning point in monetary policy. The Bank stated that monetary policy no longer needed to be as restrictive with continued evidence that underlying inflation is easing. Furthermore, the Bank signaled that further rate cuts would be gradual and data dependent, with a particular focus on further progress in cooling inflationary pressures.

In the first half of 2024, the bond portfolio was positioned with an interest rate sensitivity approximately equal to its benchmark. In addition, the portfolio is structured to benefit from a steepening of the yield curve, the difference between short term and mid/long term bonds yields. The yield curve has been inverted for a couple of years, meaning that longer term bond yields are lower than shorter term bond yields, which historically has been a sign of a pending recession. We believe the yield curve will eventually re-steepen as short-term rates continue to fall and have positioned the portfolio to benefit from this shift.

Corporate credit spreads tightened during the second quarter across all sectors. The Fund benefited from an overweight to corporate bonds. With the outperformance of corporate bonds, we have reduced our exposure over the first half of this year, primarily with trims in the financials and utility sectors.

The high yield portfolio continues to be positioned with a slight bias towards fixed-rate high yield bonds over bank loans, as high yield bond prices offer similar opportunistic valuation discounts to loans. In the first half of 2024, the high yield portfolio benefited from strong security selection in industrials, energy, capital goods, and technology sectors. Sub-investment grade spreads are at the tighter end of the historical range, reflecting a positive economic outlook in the US.

The preferred share portfolio outperformed the S&P/TSX Preferred Share Index in the first half of 2024, increasing by +18.1% before fees while the preferred share index increased by +14.2%. We remain overweight utility issuers and underweight real estate and financial issuers. The latter was positive for performance in the first half of 2024.

Recent Developments

In July 2024, the Bank of Canada lowered its key interest rate to 4.50%.

- (1) This information is provided as at December 31 of the year shown; unless noted otherwise.
- (2) Management expense ratio is based on total expenses (excluding commissions and other portfolio transaction costs) for the stated period and is expressed as an annualized percentage of the daily average net asset value during the period.
- (3) The trading expense ratio represents total commissions and other portfolio transaction costs expressed as an annualized percentage of daily average net asset value during the period.
- (4) The Fund's portfolio turnover rate indicates how actively the Fund's portfolio adviser manages its portfolio investments. A portfolio turnover rate of 100% is equivalent to the Fund buying and selling all of the securities in its portfolio once in the course of the year. The higher a fund's portfolio turnover rate in a year, the greater the trading costs payable by the fund in the year, and the greater the chance of an investor receiving taxable capital gains in the year. There is not necessarily a relationship between a high turnover rate and the performance of a fund.
- (5) Effective June 27, 2023, Series B has been discontinued as there are no unitholders.
